

The Society

The North Carolina Society of Healthcare Attorneys ("the Society") is a non-profit corporation whose mission is to provide professional education and other services to North Carolina attorneys who have an interest in healthcare law.

The Society serves as a resource to its members with a wide variety of programs and activities that reflect the diversity of healthcare clients.

The Society holds an Annual Meeting that focuses on current and future healthcare legal trends and issues. It sponsors seminars throughout the year on topics of interest to its members, including federal and state legislative and regulatory developments. The Society promotes communication and networking among members.
